CCPA initiates suo motu action against 41 restaurants over default service charge

19 July 2026 | Press Information Bureau

PIB said the Central Consumer Protection Authority (CCPA) initiated suo motu action against 41 restaurants across the country for levying service charge by default on consumers' bills. The action followed complaints received through the National Consumer Helpline (NCH), supported by invoices.

CCPA found that the automatic levy violated its guidelines on service charge in hotels and restaurants and amounts to an unfair trade practice under Section 2(47) of the Consumer Protection Act, 2019.
